For a number of years it has been the desire of the Women's Relief Corps to establish a home in this department, and at several department conventions sums have been set apart as a nucleus for a fund for the purpose. To co-operate with the Home Com-mittee of Five, appointed by the Women's Relief Corps, an advisory committee from the Grand Army of the Republic was requested. The committee, composed of Department Commander Joseph P. Cleary, Past Department Commander Theodore L. Poole and General Nicholas W. Day, of this city, has issued an appeal asking the posts to give generous aid and to further the "speedy realization of this long-cherished dream." The Women's Relief Corps has already received encouraging re-sponses, and the Grand Army of the Republic Comittee hope that comrades will take hold and push the work to an early consummation.

Grand Marshal George M. Barry was the recipient of a pleasant compliment in the shape of a handsomely engraved set of resolutions on Wednesday evening, presented by William G. Mitchell Post, No. 53, of which he is a member. Past Commander William Atkinson made the speech of presentation, in which he alluded to the grand marshal services to the post and to the order. Comrade Barry replied in his usual happy style. The post made the following nominations, most of them, including the commander, being nominations for re-election: Commander, John W. Crawford: senior vice-commander, James Friel; junior vice-commander, S. T. King; surgeon. S. M. Heimendringer; chaplain, M. H. Hateer; Officer of the Day, J. W. Huested; Officer of the Guard, C. Kabranisky; delegate to Department Encampment, George M. Barry; alternate, William Atkinson; delegate and alternate to the New-York Memorial Committee, Comrades Barry and Atkinson. It is understood that the efficient post adjutant, Comrade Abram L. Webber, wilk be reappointed by Commander Crawford for another term.

At a recent meeting of county officers, held at the Army Building, a movement was set on foot for preserving the records and achievements of the Cavalry Corps of the Army of the Potomac during the Gettysburg campaign, and at the same time doing justice to the memory of Major-General John Buford, United States Volunteers, the corps commander. It is proposed to erect a monument to mark the shot where the first gun was fired in that momentous battle. An Executive Committee to take the movement in charge was appointed, of which the following are the officers: Chairman, Major-General David M. Gregg, U. S. V.; vice-chairman, Brevet Major-Genera. Wesley Merritt, U. S. A.; secretary, Brevet Brigadier-General Theodore F. Rodenbaugh, U. S. A.; treasurer, Colonel Charles McKnight Leoser, U. S. V.

ST. PETER'S CHURCH ANNIVERSARY.

Anniversary services in celebration of the eighth year of the consecration and the 108th year of the founding of St. Peter's Church were held yesterday. St. Peter's is the oldest Catholic church in this city. The Rev. Father Farmer, in 1785, founded St. Peter's Church on its present site, at Barclay and Church sts. Until that time the spiritual wants of the colony had been administered by the Rev. Father Delamatte, chapiain of the French fleet. The edifice was then on the outskirts of the city. For many years it was the only Catholic Church. For many years it was the only Catholic Church. For nearly a century it was the principal church in the diocese, and among its parishloners were many of the leading men of the growing city. In 1835 the early church was replaced by the present stone edifice. At 19 o'clock yesterday morning high mass was celebrated by the Rev. James H. McGean, the pastor, assisted by the Rev. J. H. Briody as deacon, and the Rev. Thomas H. Myham as subdeacon. The church was crowded and many of the old parishloners who years ago moved uptown were present.

SMALLPOX IN A TENEMENT HOUSE. Word was sent to the Brooklyn Health Department yesterday that the three-year old child of Julia Gestera had died on Saturday without medi-cal attendance at No. 309 North Seventh-st. Upon nvestigation it was found that death was due to smallpox. The mother of the child and a tensmallpox. The mother of the child and a tell-year-old son have since then been stricken with the disease. A quarantine was at once placed on the house, which is a four-story double tenement occu-pied by seventy people. It is feared that the dis-ease will spread through the building. On Saturday the quarantine was raised from the tenement house No. 31 North Seventh-st., where there were several cases of smallpox some weeks ago.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

Dr. Robert G. Eccles lectured before the Brooklyn Ethical Association in the Second Unitarian Church last evening on "The Atmosphere as Related to Life and Survival." The lecture was the third in the course on "Life and the Conditions Survival," to be given under the auspices of the association this lecture season. The topic was discussed by Miss Ellen E. Kenyon, Ph. D., and Frederick Jansen, a Norwegian, of No. 165 Ninthst., was a patient in the Long Island College Hospital yesterday suffering from a fractured skull. He got into a dispute in the liquor shop of John Moran, at Pearl and York sts., late Saturday night, and Hugh McGrath, the bartender, struck him on the head with some blunt instrument, felling him to the floor. He made his way to the Fulton-st. police station, where it was found that he was suffering not only from lacerated wounds of the scalp, but from a fracture of the skull. McGrath was arrested and held on a charge of assault in the second degree.

The proceeds of the fair for the benefit of the Brooklyn Orphan Asylum, which closed in the Academy of Music on Saturday night, amounted to about $5,000.

The big heap of paving stones near Sands and Fulton sts. indicates that the work of paving the Bridge Plaza is soon to begin.

The city authorities ought to put forth a special effort to make the shopping streets clean in readiness for the shopping season, and to keep them so, at least until after the holidays.

When the Kings County Elevated Railroad began running, a man at the Bedford-ave, crossing Fulton-st, gave warning of approaching trains by tish horses was avoided. It has been suggested that where the favorite driveway is crossed by a trolley line a similar precaution would be a measure of safety.

Workmen were busy during the early hours of yesterday laying new sleepers and tracks on the south side of the New-York approach to the Bridge. The British steamer Black Prince, which arrived here yesterday from Tilt Cove, N. F., met strong southwest winds and heavy seas, during which portions of her donkey engine and steam piping were carried away.

DIANA'S SCARF IS TOO LARGE. Diana, of Manhattan; Diana, the gilded; Diana, who stands tiptoe and draws her golden bow into the face of the winds blowing about the tower of Madison Square Garden, has not yet attained the title of Diana the perfect. Ever since she rose to the tip of her toe on the tiptop of the garden tower she has been viewed by thousands of critical ever from the park and the streets below. For another, a bigger Diana, had held the place to which this new goldens had risen, and people looked up to the newcomer to compare her with the the place to which this new goods and risen, and people looked up to the newcomer to compare her with the first figure.
